Fortnite is one of the biggest games out there right now, but it's made it a target for lawsuits including ones this week involving pop culture dances available for sale in the game. At what point are things parody, or creative works stolen for profits? Why is this being targeted now when games like World of Warcraft have had pop culture dances in them for some time? We discuss on this weeks episode of the show, including much more news as we get used to our new home for live broadcasts on Twitch at twitch.tv/VOGNetwork

Also in the News:

* Microsoft All Access ending... for now

* Celeste new levels and Games with Gold

* Spiderman PS4 Sam Raimi suit

* Minecraft Updates are the last... on PS3 and WiiU anyway

All this and more on the show where EVERY gamer has a voice-- Orange Lounge Radio!

LIVE on the VOG Network, Sunday nights at 6 Pacific, 9 Eastern www.vognetwork.com

Twitter: @olr

Mailbag: participate (at) orangeloungeradio dot com

{enclose OLR_757_122318.mp3}