

There's a video game company we've been following for a long time on our show, and just when we thought maybe the company was moving in a new direction, they pull some stunts with a recent tournament that leaves one of our hosts seething. Should a video game company have better customer service, or do we have to accept some of the cultural differences? We discuss and debate on our program tonight. With the Thanksgiving holiday in the states on the horizon, the game releases are coming fast and furious. We cover all the news leading up to a huge release week to cap of a huge year in gaming releases. All this and more on another week of the longest running video game podcast, Orange Lounge Radio!

Also in the news:

- * Steam Deck OLED Announced
- * Zelda Will become Live Action Movie
- * Playstation Social Media Integration Changes
- * Controversial A.I. Announcement by Microsoft

All this and more on the show where EVERY gamer has a voice-- Orange Lounge Radio!
