

Anime-Expo 2009: Guests of Honor, Give us Your Questions!

Written by DJTyrant

Tuesday, 30 June 2009 18:20 - Last Updated Tuesday, 30 June 2009 19:07

Starting this Thursday will be Anime-Expo which is one of the largest anime conventions in the U.S. It's not limited to anime though as there are a few guests this year that have some ties with the videogame industry. Held in Los Angeles this year it will be four days of panels, tournaments and much more as the cultures of anime and gaming collide.

We will have an opportunity tomorrow to interview a couple of the Guests of Honor and would love your questions! Our focus will be on the guests with videogame backgrounds/roots; so here's the list of the people we are going to try to hit up:

- Daisuke Ishiwatari (Guilty Gear, BlazBlue)
- Toshimichi Mori (BlazBlue)
- TSUNKU (Rhythm Heaven)

Feel free to leave questions here and we will check these before we head out tomorrow. You can also email DJTyrant (djtyrant at gmail dot com) with your questions (please include who you want asked). Also make sure to follow us on Twitter: @DJTyrant , @HSailormoon and @Bresslol .

We will also be playing some of the newest releases and get the latest impressions on titles including Demon's Soul , Tatsunoko vs. Capcom , and more!