Hi, this act deft! And I'm also gonna be posting along with deekman some of our favorite video games tracks in this new section called...

I <3 that song!

Well, this is gonna be a bi-weekly section with deekman on Mondays and yours truly on Fridays.

Well today I'm going to post something that will probably bring some pretty good memories to old fans of OLR!

Today's track is 1998 by Naoki from DDR Extreme (AC)

DDR is a classic among music game players, like most of here in OLR. Extreme is one the best mixes out there and it features a ton of pretty awesome songs. But the one that strikes me the most is 1998 which commemorates the creation of DDR with a high pumping energetic song. It really captures DDR at it's best.

Hey, you want to suggest a song to be featured on future weeks, we welcome you to do so on the comments! You can also comment about today's pick!
