Yeah I'm going back to Daft Punk for these picks... well sort of. See a whole bunch of artists got together to make chiptune renditions (Basically think songs that sound like they're from an 8 bit Nintendo game.) of some of Daft Punk's greatest hits.

The albums come in two volumes; Volume 1 which was released in 2009 (Admittedly I kinda forgot about it till recently) and Volume 2 which was just released this year. Both of these contain several songs from DP's archives.

My first selection is from Volume 1, 'Aerodynamic'. It's off Discovery, so just imagine our friends from over in the 5ecret 5tar 5ystem as you listen to it. (takes place in between the other two songs I'd previously featured, as Darkwood's army invades and kidnaps our interstellar rockstars from their home planet.)

My second pick comes from the recently released Volume 2, 'Son of Flynn' off the TRON: Legacy soundtrack.
