For a moment you will think this is a "I Love That Song" article.

Today's video is pretty much the definition of "epic" in medley form. There is really not much I explain about this video, you just HAVE to listen to this!

This medley pretty much covers every memorable song there is in video game history, and it's so amazingly well done! You'll want to keep listening to it again and again!

FreddeGredde is truly talented, check out his channel for more awesome stuff! This video has gathered over 100k views in the span of a whole day!

You can also download his Video Game Experiments album, which includes this medley, over at his site <http://freddegredde.com/shop/music/>.
