Hey remember the Eyetoy? I do. All of the mini games sucked except the window washer. Why? This song.

Today's track is "When I'm Cleaning Windows" from Eyetoy Play {audio}<http://www.angry-gamers.com/music/cleaningwindows.mp3>{/audio}

Please note due to copyright issues I can not make this song available for you to download directly.

While I'm not sure how popular the Eyetoy Play series actually was, what with its glitchy controls and horrible minigames, this is one song that always stood out to me that would actually get me to come back and play the same mini game again and again. The song was actually written by George Formby in the 1920s but it's so damn catchy that it still gets stuck in your head today!
