Greetings everyone, and welcome to the new Orange Lounge Radio website! Our old website was badly in need of a tuneup, and we'd like to thank very much OLR staff members Deekman and VxJasonxV for all of their help in making this happen.

We hope to bring you some more regular updates in the style of what you've come to hear on our Sunday night shows. We'll be expanding our writing staff a tad to bring you some more game reviews and coverage from all the conventions and expos that we can get to!

Thanks as always for supporting independent broadcasting!
