You have the right to remain awesome!

Today's track is "Objection!" from " Phoenix Wright "

Please note due to copyright issues I can not make this song available for you to download directly.

For everyone who's never played an Ace Attorney game you're missing out. From the awesome sprite art to the chip tune style sound track and not to mention the fantastic writing these games are some of the best available for the Nintendo DS (and GBA in Japan).

If you've got a song you would like to see featured or just remember something cool from some game let me know in the comments and I'll see what I can do about featuring it in an up coming article!
