We're nearing the end folks! There's only a few challenges left and they'll all be posted here throughout the week... so hit the jump for your first of the last three!

The video opens, with the master of ceremonies himself standing in front of a large stone castle, wearing a dark black wizard's robe.

So, the field has been narrowed down to just the three of you. Congratulations on making it this far! But your greatest test is yet to come! So for your first test, it's going to be relatively easy: Get the high score on the arcade classic, Tempest! You can either use the MAME version, or click here for an online version with less sensitive controls. Complete this one and you'll get the first of three 'Crystal Gate' icons for this final test.

It's still anyone's game, so get to work!!
