

There are a whole lot of Starcraft II updates in the first half of our show tonight... you will not believe what people are doing with some of the editors. It probably is nothing compared to a game meant for editing-- Littlebigplanet 2! Nintendo talks some big plans including online presence, a mystery reveal, and more anti-piracy measures... but how much of it do we believe? In part B, we talk about a barrage of fan films to hit the internet recently, as well as a pair of music games... one of them a Bemanish game, the other a game by Armin Van Buuren. All this plus George Romero and... the BABYMAKER. OLR is not just about the news, but it is about YOU-- after all, we are the show where EVERY gamer has a voice. Chatroom antics, live phone calls, twitter topics, e-mails and much more-- it all unfolds LIVE and is here now for you to download!
