In a special podcast taped from a hotel room in Los Angeles very late at night, Rob and Miklotov go over their Tuesday adventures at E3 after a quick discussion about the press conferences. We got our hands on the 3DS today, so check out our impressions. Also, we observe and get some hands on with Kinect dance games, as well as jam for a bit on Rock Band 3. Note: This is not a normal episode of OLR, but a special road show taped from a remote kit. The audio quality of this program will differ from our standard.
