Rob is back with another road show from E3 2010, this time joined not only by Miklotov but also by our pal Bobby Blackwolf! We talk games, games and more games seen on the show floor. We also touch a bit on what went down at Activisions press conference, and talk a bit more about the 3DS. Tune in and dont forget to send us your tweets on what you want to hear on the last show tomorrow. Note: This is not a normal episode of OLR, but a special road show taped from a remote kit. The audio quality of this program will differ from our standard.
