

The gaming community was on fire with opinions this week on the acquisition of the Oculus Rift by Facebook. Our hosts have some thoughts on this topic, is it the doom and gloom many people think it is, or do we need to cut a little slack? Our live participants chime in with their thoughts as well. We take some time to express our disgust at a local story as well involving a corrupt local government official who is likely to blame everything he allegedly did wrong on video games.

- * Humble Bundle Key Resellers
- * Xbox One Grievers to get some access removed
