Tonight we welcome to the show for an extended interview Kyle Ward, creator of hot new Android music games ReRave Plus and Dittobeat. We talk extensively with Kyle about the present as well as the past, including his involvement with the In The Groove franchise. We have an honest conversation about patents, the state of arcade gaming these days, and some of the things learned over the years. This episode takes us back in a big way to our roots as a show dedicated to music gaming. OLR fans past as well as present won't want to miss it.
