

On a shorter news week due to the holiday, we start with a not so serious topic about games we might be a little embarrassed to admit we've played before. Okay so maybe we don't get embarrassed about the games we play but still, there's gotta be something we can't believe we actually spend time playing! Then we change topics and get into the news from the week which include a pair of anime deals on netflix to bring us another season of Castlevania, as well as an anime based on Ingress!

Also in the news:

- * More Switch titles to come in 2018?

- * Warframe headed to switch

- * Amazon Prime Changes

- * Fast Start on Xbox One
