

A popular Playstation game was released on PC this week which led to of course, many mods being made available for the game. However one mod made it's way out that ended up getting the creator banned from Nexus Mods. Usually, I'd write something vague here to get you to listen to the episode but let's be real, he was a giant fraking coward who knew he was being an obnoxious little troll and props to Nexus Mods for doing what they needed to do and saying what they needed to say. Anyway, hear us rant about this and talk about many pleasant topics in gaming as well on a whole nother week of the longest running gaming program on the internet, Orange Lounge Radio!

Also in the News:

- * Embracer makes more Acquisitions
- * Arcade 1up NFL Blitz
- * A Video Game Car becomes a Reality
- * Mini Genesis 2 Full List is missing something in North America...
